

Environmental Policy.

Revision C (11/06/2024)

At Accu the environment is at the forefront of our mind. Our unwavering dedication to the environment drives us to proactively seek out and implement a wide range of strategies aimed at minimising our impact. We firmly believe that safeguarding the planet is a shared responsibility, and we are determined to do our part. Accu is committed to reaching Net Zero by 2030 and we may request data from companies that we work with to improve the accuracy of our Scope 3 carbon footprint reporting.

We commit to and expect our supply chain to:

- Comply with all applicable environmental laws, regulations, and standards.
- Reduce the creation of unnecessary waste whenever possible.
- Reduce exposure to substances hazardous to organic life wherever possible. Where exposure is unavoidable, such as in chemical-based manufacture processes, potential risks to health and to the environment are addressed and removed or mitigated.
- Requirements regarding the prohibition of materials and substances in relation to local and national laws are observed and followed at all times.
- Comply with and meet all the relevant local and national environmental laws.
- Seek ways to conserve natural resources and energy, reduce waste and the use of hazardous substances to minimise any adverse effects on the environment.
- Energy use is monitored and reduced wherever possible, reducing costs and emissions.

- Adopt such practices and utilise such systems that minimise the use of resources, e.g. water efficiency, energy efficiency, etc.;
- Encourage awareness of internal and external environmental issues,
- Secure, and keep current, all required environmental permits, approvals and registration.
- Ensure the correct handling, storage, disposal and transport of waste.
- Ensure that any hazardous or toxic waste produced is properly identified, tracked and disposed of by licensed and competent bodies via authorised and/or licensed means.
- Take actions to continually improve your organisation's environmental impact.

Accu believes that by implementing these policies and practices, we can make a positive contribution to the environment and society, while also growing our business.
